ELSIE JANIS' AUNT DIES AT HOME OF THE ACTRESS

Note Found Which Was Written a Little While Before Her Death.

The mother of Perry Eubanks, of the Automatic Electric Co., of Chicago, who about ten years ago made his home in Coshocton and was employed as electrician for the Citizens Telephone Co., was found dead in her room Sunday, at El Jan, the Columbus home of her niece Elsie Janis, who appeared in Coshocton four years ago in "The Little Dutchess" and made many warm admirers here. The following dispatch tells of Mrs. Eubanks' death:

[Associated Dames Telegram]
Columbus, O., Dec. 13.—Mrs. Anna L. Eubanks, 67, aunt of Elsie Janis, vaudeville star, was found dead in her room at El Jan, the beautiful Columbus home of Miss Janis, of which she had charge while the player is on tour. She had been supposed to leave the city for a short trip Thursday and to return yesterday, and her nephew, James Loren, went to the house to see her. He entered with his personal key, found fires lighted and other signs of her presence, and search revealed her dead body on the floor of her room. Beside it was a scribbled note, dated late Thursday night, in which she wrote of severe heart pains.

Coroner Hanes said she had been dead many hours, and it is believed she died soon after she wrote the note.

COSHOCTON MAN AMONG BLACK HAND VICTIMS

TOLEDO, Dec. 13.—That the Government will endeavor to prove a widespread conspiracy to extort money from Italians is shown by the indictment returned by the Federal Grand Jury against 16 Sicilians, alleged members of a "black hand" organization apprehended last June. A secret indictment was returned also, the nature of which is not disclosed.

The joint indictment of 15 counts charging a conspiracy to use the mails to extort money by threats, reveals for the first time the names of 15 Italians living in Columbus, Greenville, Coshocton, Cleveland, Denison and Indianapolis, whom, it is alleged, the defendants attempted to fleece.

WOMAN BURNED WHEN LINIMENT CAUGHT FIRE

Mrs. Joseph Harbaugh, an aged lady dwelling on East Main-st. was severely burned late Sunday night by liniment that she was rubbing on her limb catching fire from the stove.

Her right leg was burned to a blister from the ankle to the knee both hands were burned to a blister, her eyebrows and hair were singed, and her night gown and considerable bedding etc. were burned. The house nearly caught fire. Her daughter and her husband were both badly burned about the hands, extinguishing the flames.

All were ready for bed and she sat near the fire rubbing her limb with the liniment. Suddenly there was a flash and the stuff was on fire. She ran to the bed trying to smother the flames.

Dr. Marshall was called and today the aged lady is resting as easily as could be expected.

WARD-HEYDLER FIGHT IS WARM

Both Aspire to Presidency of National Baseball League.

New York, Dec. 13.—Members of the national commission are in session here today to decide a number of protests. Tomorrow there will be a lot of wire-pulling prior to meeting of the National league's board of directors at the Waldorf, scheduled to convene about noon, with the general session of the league called for 2 o'clock. The American league will convene at the Hotel Wolcott on Wednesday.

That a fight to a finish between the Ward and Heydler factions in the National league, the latter supported by Johnson and the American league, will take the greater part of the week, there seems to be no doubt. The Ward faction after a caucus last evening again expressed confidence in its ability to carry the day.

Heydler men, headed by Herrmann and Dreyfuss, said that the fight has only just begun. Some of the Heydler men seemed to think that Ban Johnson would succeed in securing certain persons that they would declare their allegiance to Heydler.

When Horace Fogel, the new president and alleged owner of the Philadelphia club, applies for admission to the National league meeting, it is said an attempt will be made to bar the way until Fogel discloses the identity of the men who bought the stock two weeks ago.

Dreyfuss to Take Initiative.

It is understood that Dreyfuss will take the initiative in this matter and that he has learned some interesting facts from Senator Wolf, his brother-in-law, who, with others, sold the Philadelphia club to the "Fogel syndicate." Persons who believe what Dreyfuss says have the idea that it might develop that Fogel's backers are Murphy of Chicago, and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, in which event the fight will be made to deny the charges.

WRECKED SAILORS FREEZE

Dead Men Adrift on Lake Erie Towed To Port By Tug.

[Associated Dames Telegram]
Erie, Pa., Dec. 13.—When the state fishing tug Commodore Perry towed the Bessemer and Marquette car ferry's lifeboat No. 4 into the port of Erie, all doubt as to the fate of the vessel was dispelled. Some sitting in the seats and others huddled up in the bottom of the craft, all were frozen stiff.

The bodies were later identified as follows: Thomas Steel, single, coal passer, Conneaut; John Part, single, oiler, Conneaut; Charles Allen, single, Conneaut; George R. Smith, married, steward, Conneaut; William R. Rain, married, Conneaut; H. J. Thomas, Port Stanley, Ont.; Manuel Souars, single, Conneaut; Joseph Shenk, single, Conneaut; — O'Hagen, London, Ont.

Towed Into Port.

The lifeboat, its rail almost awash, was sighted by the tug Commodore Perry 15 miles north of Erie. Captain J. T. Driscoll attached a line to the craft and towed it into port.

Joseph Shenk of Conneaut, the smallest man in the party, was the first to succumb to exposure. Others of the shipwrecked crew, evidently with the intention of keeping the spark of life in the frail body, huddled on top of and about Shenk and were found frozen in that position. The faces of some of the men were bruised and cut apparently due to the efforts to keep up circulation.

Captain Driscoll said he believed the other lifeboats could be found in the vicinity of the spot where he picked up No. 4. Owing to signs of another storm and the gathering darkness, he returned to port, with the intention of continuing the search when the weather was more favorable.

Columbus Pastor Denounces Cook

[Associated Dames Telegram]
Columbus, O., Dec. 13.—Dr. Washington Gladden, from the pulpit of the First Congregational church, denounced Dr. Frederick A. Cook as an imposter and a fakir.

"This is a case where flight is confession," he declared. "Dr. Cook's disappearance, followed by the declaration of his attorney, makes difficult the conclusion that he is anything more than a brazen imposter. His claims to the discovery of the north pole seem a deliberate attempt to palm a fabricated story off on the credulous public for the sake of fame and a few gold ducats."

"He was willing to be acclaimed a hero and accept praises and garlands, knowing in his heart that his only achievement was monumental fraud. Doubtless he imagined he never would be found out and could preserve his secret. Now that he is found out, he must hide himself from sight of men. To the grave he will bear with him mankind's scorn for a fakir."

DOC HARROLD KNOCKED OUT FRED JEAN

"Doc" Harrold one of Coshocton's hold polo stars who is now playing with Fall River team showed himself to be a sort of pugilist in the fast game with New Bedford last Thursday night according to the "Globe" of Fall River. Harrold mixed it up with Jean who is recognized in the east as a good man and has some sort of a record as a pugilist. Thus the spirit of the game Harrold refused to take some of Jean's "bullying" and after the smoke had cleared away Jean was holding his hands over his head crying that he had had enough winning for Harrold the eastern middle weight championship as a scientific user of the fists. Doc sent several marked copies of the Globe to his friends in Coshocton to let them know that he was still there on the rough work.

BODY WILL BE BROUGHT HERE TUESDAY FOR BURIAL

Was Reared in Coshocton and Lived Here Nearly All His Life.

Phillip Wolfe, Jr., 36, a flagman on the T. W. V. & O., was killed by his train near Post Boy on the C. & M. V., between Newcomerstown and Cambridge Monday morning at 1 o'clock. He is the son of Phillip Wolfe who lives on N. 9th-st., and until the past two years has made his home in Coshocton. The body was found lying between the tracks by the crew and was mutilated to a great extent. He was working with a T. W. V. & O. crew and was going from Newcomerstown to Cambridge after coal.

The body was taken to Cambridge Monday and prepared for burial and from there was taken to his home in Mansfield. It will be brought to Coshocton Tuesday morning and burial will take place probably Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday. The services will be held at the home of Jack Wolfe on West Locust-st.

The best theory of the accident is given by a member of the crew working with Wolfe. There is a long grade at Post Boy and all heavy trains are helped up by a "helper" and this is what the crew was doing at the time of the accident. It is supposed that Wolfe was standing on the siding and the helper running at good speed slipped up behind him and struck him. The top of his head was cut off and it is supposed that death was instantaneous. The crew said that the accident happened at 11:45.

Wolfe was a member of the Trainmen's Brotherhood and carries a big insurance.

Wolfe began railroad work four years ago, working on the Mansfield division of the T. W. V. & O., coming to Coshocton every day. He moved from Coshocton two years ago to Mansfield. The train on which he worked was a coaler carrying coal from Cambridge. It is supposed that Wolfe met with death by falling between the cars to the tracks.

The Coshocton National Bank is Safe

Because high finance is a term that is not included in the vocabulary of this bank. A bank that is conservatively managed in the interest of the depositors and stockholders has no element of speculation in it. Our assets are kept sound, and we always have a wide margin for safety.

Under such conditions, no matter how unstable the Wall street system and no matter whether crops are good or bad, we are safe and our depositors know it. These conditions give our patrons a feeling of confidence.

IS MISSING CLEVELAND MAN WANDERING IN COSHOCTON CO.?

Is Curtis Walton the missing Cleveland architect, wandering aimlessly about somewhere in Coshocton-co?

That is the amazing query The Age has today received from Cleveland and Coshocton county people are asked to keep their eyes open for any trace of the missing man. His relatives have offered a reward of $100 for information concerning him.

The story of his disappearance is thus told by the Plain Dealer:

That Walton is a victim of a mental ship is assumed by his family. On Nov. 13 he left home to keep an appointment at the Hollenden. He did not keep it. Instead he went to New York, but wired home shortly after he arrived that he would be back Monday. He failed to come back. Since he sent that telegram he has been lost, although the copy he wrote then has been found at a telegraph station in New York and apparently indicates that he was in full possession of his faculties.

Walton was unmarried, a man of exemplary habits, with a brilliant future and engaged in work that he loved. No reason that might impel a man to seek oblivion can be imagined by friends or relatives or found by detectives, for no efforts have been spared by his relatives to account for his absence. He had funds on deposit in a Cleveland bank, but no check has been drawn on them since he disappeared.

That he went to New York is sure. It is now known that he returned to Cleveland the following Monday, as he had wired his relatives he would.

A chauffeur employed by Benson Painter has told the family of the missing architect that on the following Monday, while he waited for Mr. Painter at the Lake Shore depot in Collinwood, he saw Walton leave the 7:15 train from New York and enter the waiting room. A building inspector, employed by the city and who knew Walton, has said that he saw him on E. 9th-st. an hour later. The next known of Walton is that he was headed for Akron and possibly Canton.

Case school classmate of Walton met him on a C. A. & C. train still later on Monday. The two conversed pleasantly on the train until Akron was reached. There Walton left the train. He was seen to start for the main street of the city, where the suburban cars run.

This is known definitely. Walton's next move is not certain. A conductor on the interurban railway thinks he saw Walton on his car later in the day, going to Canton. This is as far as knowledge of him goes. Walton is known to be practically without funds, to have drawn none from the bank where he has a good checking account and to be wandering about without any good idea of who he is.

Yesterday a reward of $100 was offered for information which would lead to discovery of his whereabouts. Information should be sent to his uncle, W. L. Walton, 675 E. 72nd-st.

Walton is thirty-five years old, five feet eleven inches tall, has a smooth face and weighs 150 pounds. When last seen he wore a dark blue suit.

A TRUE STORY of a BANK CLERK and what he did FOR YOU

There was a boy whose father was a mechanic. That father said his boy should be a "gentleman" and not a mechanic, and he made the boy a bookkeeper, which some will tell you was a step in the right direction.

He made him a bookkeeper in a bank, which others will tell you was another step in the same way.

But we will not discuss conventions.

The boy grew up with the usual bookkeeper's stoop, from leaning over his books hour after hour, toiling, mulling, boiling, over columns and columns of figures.

He was a bookkeeper with a passion for accuracy.

Gradually, the color fled from his cheeks, while the hollow chest and the racking cough backed up the doctor when the latter ordered—"Get away from the desk; it is killing you."

Easier said than done, for there were hungry mouths to feed and eager brains to train.

"Why should a bookkeeper's work be hard?" asked the man. One day it hit him—the work was hard because most of it was the same old thing day in and out. Most of it never varied, but was a dull repetition, a lifeless grind, while it called for constant, unvarying concentration of mind. Sixty percent of it was machine work.

He realized that he had condemned his brain, his will, his imagination, his whole energy to machine work, not giving it a chance to catch the significance of the important things it handled.

Where was the escape?

Out of the answer to that question came a great resolve, a profound conviction, a gripping idea: he would make a machine that would free the office man from the machine work, and give him an opportunity to use his brain.

The thought made a new man of him, for it gave him a purpose, an object to live for.

He left his clerkship, and went out into the world to pursue his Great Idea—just as Fulton, as Field, as Edison has done before him.

And the bank clerk fought his fight and won, as all the world knows today—he lived to see that Great Idea fructify into a Golden Realization for him and his, and he died content.

That bank clerk was William Seward Burroughs, and that Golden Realization was the Burroughs Adding and Listing Machine.

Because of that condition of its birth, the Burroughs has always meant more to bookkeepers than to any other man in business.

Yet it has been difficult at times to make a bookkeeper or clerk see its insistent, vital, daily value to him.

Business is governed by laws as inexorable, as unescapable, as unchangeable as the laws of the Medes and Persians.

You don't make them. Your employer doesn't make them. They are made by the society in which we live.

They are laws of competitive life.

One law is—"The best pay goes to the man who produces the most in the least time."

"Pull" may defeat the law for a time, but it can never change it.

The man who throws away his opportunities doing the work a machine could do better, invites the pink slip in his envelope; and sooner or later he gets it.

That is the law.

The man who looks upon labor-saving, time-saving, work-saving machinery as a menace to his position, places himself in the way of progress in an office or the world, as the case may be.

And the man always loses.

It is the same with states.

English workmen warred against labor-saving machinery and lost, to their own future benefit.

Spain prided herself on her conservatism—lost and fell.

The scribes who fought the introduction of printing lost.

It is the law.

The man who voluntarily condemns himself to the machine work of adding 2 and 2—or multiplying, subtracting, dividing, is advertising his own failure as an enterprising employee. He may be "a faithful soul"—but how often that means pity for the down-and-out encumbrance on the payroll.

It is the American bookkeeper's ambition to be a manager or a proprietor.

To his credit be it said; he realizes it so frequently that we have to teach young men and women by the thousands to be ready to take his place as he moves up.

It can safely be said that not one of those who move on and up get there by the process of holding back—they are the pushing, enterprising, thinking men who always leave a position or a work better than they found it.

Bookkeeping is an unproductive expense in any business.

Managers make money in that department by only saving it.

There are two ways of saving money: by helping the clerks do more on the same payroll, or by cutting down each clerk's salary.

In which department would you rather be?

The former, surely.

That is what Burroughs thought when he started to work on his Great Idea twenty-six years ago.

That, too, is the law.

Candidly and frankly, have you time to plan better ways of handling the work of your department—can you push your brain to the exertion of solving the daily problems of shorter, quicker, more productive methods?

How many hours a day do you spend in handling figures?

4 Goss Avenue, Columbus, O.

I am pleased to have the opportunity of advising the public that I am among the hundreds of cases of tuberculosis right here in Columbus that have been saved by Nature's Creation. I gained most wonderfully right from the start, and today am perfectly well. I do hope that this letter will be the means of saving many who are surely wasting away. I know that Nature's Creation will cure even many who have given up all hopes.

Sincerely,
Dr. George Brewer

(From Press-Post, April 28, '08.)

Nature's Creation agrees with the most delicate stomachs. We often have patients whose stomachs have been so bad that no solid food or medicine could be retained and yet they have recovered. It seems to strengthen the stomach right from the start. Send for booklet, which we send postpaid free of charge. It gives the complete records of many such cases. GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

Dr. Brewer Made Very Favorable Impression

The Rev. George Brewer of Columbus held the congregation of the Presbyterian church spell bound Sunday morning with his wonderful oratory when he preached one of the strongest sermons ever heard at this church. He chose as his text the eighth verse of the first chapter of Acts. He preached in that straightforward personal manner which is bound to win for him the ears of his hearers and carried his subject which to some ministers would have been a floundering one and dug deeply into it analysis in every thought and making each of the many messages which the sermon contained, strike home deeply.

He said that we all want power. The pastor, the business man, the society woman, the school child—all want power. The power that will make a felt force in the circles in which they move. This power is called personality power. Christians want a power that will make themselves felt that will, convict others. This is the power of the Holy Spirit and is added to the personality power. The scriptures speak of the spirit of Jesus, the Spirit of God and the Holy Spirit. Some may ask "How can the spirit of God be the spirit of Jesus and yet be the Holy Spirit?" When the question is thought deeply of it is so simple that any child can understand it. Here is a man, who has children and a home. He is a father, that same man we suppose is a physician treating and administering to the sick and that same man, the father and the physician may be a medical professor. He is all one man has the spirit of the father of the physician and of the medical professor. While they are distinct you cannot keep them separated. So with the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Spirit is a mystery, the same as the wind electricity, etc. We know there is a wind, we know its power and can feel it yet no one has ever attempted to describe its mystery, just what it is. We also know that there is electricity, we know how it lights our homes and our streets yet no scientist has ever shown us its mystery. It is the same with the Holy Spirit. There are those who believe in Jesus but when the Holy Spirit comes into consideration they cannot believe that there is such a thing because they cannot see it. Jesus they say was seen on earth in flesh and blood; he had form; he had feet and walked among our fellow men; but the Holy Spirit never was seen or felt in the flesh and here the imagination baffled. But just the same as we know that there is the wind we know that there is a Holy Spirit. He is not to reveal himself but to bring to bear influences on the life record of Jesus to make Him real.

LAND APPRAISERS WILL MEET TUESDAY AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13.—Next Tuesday there will be a very important meeting held in this city, and the indications are that it will far surpass the finest idea of Auditor Fullington when he issued a call for land appraisers to meet him, and determine upon a uniform method of appraising property at a just and fair value all over the state. The meeting is primarily called for the purpose of reaching a method of appraising real estate, so that it will not be done one way in one county, and another in the adjoining county. The meeting will be held at the Memorial hall and indications are that there will be at least 1,000 newly elected appraisers present. Tax experts from different parts of the United States will address the delegates.

DYSPEPSIA IS RELIEVED IN FIVE MINUTES

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapepsin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Biliousness, Heartburn, Water-brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headache from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapepsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

LOOK OUT FOR FIRE SAYS STATE FIRE MARSHALL

It is a regrettable fact that the two holidays principally enjoyed by the children and youth of the land and widely separated in season and character should be so productive of personal injury and destruction of property. The celebration of Christmas should never be thus marred. Every danger which has attended this season's festivities can be avoided by the exercise of precaution, and this will not entail the sacrifice of a single thing that is dear to the heart of child or youth.

Dangers in Stores.
The spirit of business rivalry, very naturally and properly, leads the shop-keeper to display his wares in the most tempting fashion within his power. It is out of his effort to please the eye and beguile the heart of the shopper that the first of the season's dangers arises. The electric wiring, frequently installed temporarily and by hurried or careless hands, may result in "crossed wires" and a consequent fire. The use of inflammable substances in display windows near electric lights or over gas jets is a source of great danger. Cotton, which is so frequently used to produce a snow effect should be eliminated. If such an effect is desired it can safely be done by the use of mineral wool. The lessened danger will many times overpay the increased expense.

Fires in our stores at this season are particularly dangerous owing to the crowds of shoppers. Panic is almost certain to follow unless there be perfect organization in the store for the purpose of meeting just such an emergency.

The Christmas Tree.

The Christmas tree still lives to delight each succeeding generation of children, but in its beauty there lurks much danger. But we can eliminate the dangers and still have the tree in all its glory. The following suggestions have been made before by this department and are considered worthy of repetition:

"Don't leave an illuminated tree unwatched."
"Don't use festoons of tissue paper or cotton batting on a tree." (Mineral wool is a perfect substitute and will not burn.)
"Don't use any ornaments made of celluloid."
"Don't let the children touch the tree."
"Don't permit a draft of air to sway the branches of a tree while it is illuminated."
"Don't put cotton beneath a tree to make a carpet look like snow covered ground." (Use mineral wool, asbestos.)
"Don't remove a thing from the tree until the candles on it are blown out."

If the precautions thus outlined be carefully observed there is small likelihood that the house of mirth will be turned into the house of mourning at this glad some time.

John W. Zuber,
State Fire Marshal.

PUBLIC EDUCATION

The report of State School Commissioner Zeller, of Ohio, and an article in this week's Outlook by superintendent of the public schools at Syracuse, N. Y. both aim at the same target and they both hit the center with a ring shot. The reader of both is satisfied that the conditions that prevail in high schools are not confined to the state of Ohio or the state of New York, but that they are widespread. And paradoxical as it may seem, the weight of evidence is that the influence of the college on public school life is a baneful one. In other words, the high school courses in the average high school are to too great an extent for the purpose of preparing the one-tenth of the pupils for college and not at all for the purpose of giving a practical education to the nine-tenths who never go to college. The gentlemen are authorities and both are exactly right. The high schools must be made practical, and for the purpose of the boy and the girl and not for the purpose of the college. Every person interested in education should read Saturday's issue of the Outlook; it gives criticism and offers remedies. Let us make our high schools for the masses and the colleges will conform themselves to meet the conditions. College education is to be endorsed; but if the major portion of our boys and girls do not enter college, then let us have the free public instruction conform itself to their needs.

$10,000 FOR GOOD ROADS IN EACH COUNTY IS SLOGAN

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13.—Ten thousand dollars for each county of the state for better roadways is the battle cry of the good roads men of Ohio. It was sounded first this week when the annual report of the state highway commissioner was made to Governor Harrison. He recommended the appropriation of $50,000 for the good road movement in Ohio, to be divided among the 88 counties of the state at the rate of $500.00 per county. This would be in addition to the sum collected from the sale of automobile licenses, which amounts to more than $1,000,000 annually. In addition to the $550,000, more money is asked for the highway department in order that more clerks and engineers can be added. No department in the state has increased so rapidly within the past five years as the highway department.

Sage of the Age

Many a Coshocton boy is looking longingly into the windows of the candy store; wouldn't he make himself sick though if he were told to eat his fill?

Men aren't so selfish after all; most of them are satisfied on Christmas if they receive a couple of neckties or handkerchiefs; ask a woman what she wants and she will probably say a diamond ring, a sealskin or a new silk dress.

The pupils in the primary grades and spending a great deal of their time wondering whether they will get a Christmas treat next Friday afternoon.

One ought to be able to get some pretty up-to-date pointers from the Wizard of Wiseland this evening. If there's anything in a name, that gentleman ought to be the real mustard.

Some poor fellows' socks have such big holes in the toes that it wouldn't be safe to drop a Christmas present in them; this is merely suggested as a hint to the wives.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. WIRE CART WILL BE ADDED TO OHIO SIGNAL CORPS

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13.—The Ohio Signal Corps is to have a $10,000 wire cart as a gift of the federal government. It is claimed that this cart will play an important part in future warfare as it furnishes a means for ready communications over all fields of operation. The cart will carry ten miles of wire, and the driver will at all times be in constant communication with the operator at the other end of the wire while it is being unreeled. It is one of the latest additions to the standing field army, and Adjutant General Weybrecht is looking after the interests of the Ohio National Guard in everything modern. It will be received here next Monday morning from Washington.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be overcareful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health destroying and a life lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies contain an entirely new ingredient which is odorless, tasteless and colorless. As an active agent, it embraces the valuable qualities of the best known intestinal regulator tonics.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night, do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness or other undesirable effects. They have a very natural action upon the glands and organs with which they come in contact, act as a positive and regulative tonic upon the related muscular coat of the bowels and its dry mucous lining; remove irritation, overcome weakness tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles, and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies completely relieve constipation, except when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really no medicine for this purpose so good as Rexall Orderlies, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form, in two sizes of packages; 12 tablets 10 cents, and 26 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Coshocton only at our store—The Rexall Store, Siegrist & Williams, cor. Main and Fifth-sts.

Life of the Rural Carrier Not All Smiles

The life of the rural mail carrier can hardly be said to be one continual round of "joys and smiles." Still there are many thoughtful patrons throughout Muskingum county who remember them with baskets of fruit and steaming hot mince pies and other dainties, which help to make life worth living.

On the other hand there are many thoughtless ones who put the carriers to a great deal of unnecessary inconvenience along their lines. A rural carrier who is something of a poet has written the following verses:

I'm Uncle Sam's most favored pet,
I'm heavy and I'm hale;
I've nothing in this world to do
But glide round with the mail;
But one thing almost breaks my heart,
And my nervous system shocks;
It's the everlasting pennies
That I'm fishing from the box.

I carry stamps and envelopes,
And postal cards and such;
And I would like to sell a few,
I would please me very much.
But a man can't sell unless you buy,
No matter how he talks;
So I have to keep on diving
After the pennies in the box.

It's all right in the springtime,
Or when summer breezes blow;
But a different proposition
When it's thirty-two below;
When all your fingers and your toes
Are frozen hard as rocks,
It's most anything but funny
Scratching pennies from the box.

And now, quite confidentially,
I'll tell you something more:
A rural carrier (way out west)
Forgot himself and swore,
Says he: "I can stand the snow drifts
I can stand the frozen locks,
But blast the measly pennies,
In the blasted measly box."

When the "roll is called up yonder"
And we shall gather there,
They wouldn't let a mail man in
If they knew he learned to swear;
If you want St. Peter to open the gate
When your rural carrier knocks,
Buy stamps and don't be guilty
Of putting pennies in the box.

After Dinner Stories

The young man who said he'd never eaten any to somebody who asked him if he liked Trollope was outdone the other day in a Fifth-av. book store, says the New York Sun. A girl of seventeen came in and asked the clerk for Prometheus, "by a man named Kelley or Sheets, or something like that."

"Oh," said the clerk, "Shelley's 'Prometheus Unbound'?"

"Yes," replied the girl, "that's it. But, if you please, I'd rather have it bound. It's so easy to lose the pages, you know, if it isn't."

Racial pride is a kind of patriotism that lasts as long as any sentiment. The story is told of a stranger in Milwaukee, who, seeing an Irishman at work in the street, asked him what was the population of the town.

"Oh, about forty thousand," was the reply.

"Forty thousand! It must certainly have more than that," said the visitor.

"Well," said the Irishman, "it would be about two hundred and seventy-five thousand if we were to count the Dutch."

Hints For The Housewife

The Age's Daily Recipe.
GREEN TOMATO SOY.—Put into a preserving kettle four quarts of sliced green tomatoes, six sliced onions, a tablespoonful each of ground black pepper, ground mustard and salt, one-half tablespoonful each of allspice and cloves and a quart of vinegar. Stew, stirring often, until thick, add a cup of brown sugar, stew for ten minutes more, pack into jars and seal.

Danish cut work is an effective decoration for a linen stock and jacket.

As long-sleeved gowns are the fashion, the undersleeve to match the chemise worn with a gown is no longer useful. Those who have them on hand may make them over into turn-up cuffs.

When heavy Russian crash, such as is now used for portieres, is too narrow in width, don't be dissuaded from the use of this beautiful colorless material, but just overcast its width together after the manner of the bagdad portiere. You will find no hangings more effective for studio and library use than those of soft-toned crash, and the heavy linen overcasting down each seam will render them even more attractive. To do the overcasting use the coarsest of carpet thread or a flax that is sold in skeins.

Handsome cravats for wear with overcoats can be made from a strand of black ribbon, decorating the ends as fancy dictates or skill allows. A pretty model has a wide strip of black not traced with gold thread above a deep hem. One-quarter yard will be sufficient for the ends of a cravat four inches wide, and the work is within the skill of any needlewoman. Others more elaborate display embroideries in colorful, braiding in metallic effects and some in times embroidery and gold or silver thread. These combine with charming effect upon the sable background.

A hacking cough is quickly relieved if a single drop of oil of tar is placed on a piece of lump sugar and eaten slowly. This also gives relief to persons with an incurable cough.

Rough hands are the bane of the sewer. To avoid this, first wash the hands carefully before beginning work. Rub away all roughness with a pumice stone. Then bathe the hands with a good odor vinegar. This is said to make the skin soft and smooth.

Doctors are advising daily household work as a cure for nerves. Dusting, sweeping and bedmaking bring into play a number of important muscles, and the muscle movements are exactly the same as the expensive physical culture exercises so fashionable of late years.

Where the ears are red and irritated from rough treatment or exposure to cold, bathe them night and morning with the following lotion: Alum, powdered, one teaspoonful; powdered borax, one—teaspoonful.

There's nothing like bread made from Gold Medal Flour.

Torturing Pains and Swollen Joints Vanish When Rheuma, the New Prescription, is Used

At last a cure for Rheumatism! And a good one it must be when C. E. Anderson guarantees it to cure or money back.

Rheumatics should hail this news with great rejoicing, for it surely is a most remarkable remedy and has a record of almost unbelievable cures from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Here is what R. Gedge, a prominent citizen of Buffalo says:

"Suffering severely from Rheumatism I tried Rheuma, with the hope that it would relieve me. I am happy to say that it not only did so, but, surpassing expectations, has cured me entirely. I have not had the slightest return of this most painful disease." 29 Richmond-Ave.

Red Cross Stamps Selling Rapidly In Coshocton-co

Great Increase in Work at Postoffice with Beginning of the Holiday Rush.

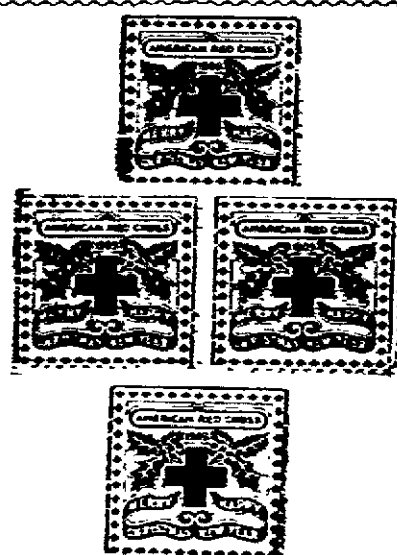

One extra clerk and two extra city carriers are to be put on for the Christmas rush at the local postoffice. Postmaster Snyder urges people to be sure and tie their Christmas packages securely and to have the name of the sender up in one corner of the package as there are about 100,000 Xmas packages that reach the dead letter office each year because of improper addressing.

In the use of Xmas stamps and Red Cross stamps, observe the regulation. These stamps do not take the place of postage stamps. Be sure you have sufficient postage stamps on your letter or package and then put on the Red Cross stamps extra if you want to. It is well to remember that Germany permits the use of Red Cross or other stamps or labels other than regular postage ONLY on the BACK of the letter or the package, and that Great Britain and some South African countries won't accept mail at all if there is any stamp or label on it other than regular postage.

Red Cross Stamps are on sale in Coshocton at:

Thompson & McKewen's, R. D. Crawford & Co. The Fountain, Mr. Crawford has also placed them at the following places on sale: West Lafayette Bank, Metzler & Dock, West Lafayette, D. G. Whittemore, Keene, The Warsaw Bank, Coffman & Son, Warsaw, The Walbonding Bank, Dr. Sand's hotel, Walbonding, R. G. Baker, Danville, R. I. Arnold & Co., The J. S. Ringwalt Co., and T. E. Taugher, Mt. Vernon, Dr. J. W. Snider, Cario, Ga. and The M. O'Neill Co., Akron.

The regular meeting of the Elks will be held tonight. A number of candidates are to be voted upon and all members are asked to attend.

JUVENILE COURT WILL KEEP YOUNG GIRLS AND BOYS FROM PUBLIC DANCES

The Juvenile court is getting after Saturday night public dances held in a couple of local halls, and seeing that boys and girls under 17, and unchaperoned are not allowed to attend. Probation Officer Sondles visited them Saturday night and made several boys and girls go home. He found some girls there 12 and 13 years old, and boys also of a tender age. The court asks the proprietors to keep minors out and also asks parents to accept some responsibility in the raising of their children and to keep them away from public dances and other places until they are of proper age and at years of discretion.

W. K. Crawford is Doing Loyal Work For Victims of Great White Plague.

If Coshocton city and county is covered with a snow storm of Red Cross stamps this Christmas, the one man who deserves the thanks will be W. K. Crawford of Walbonding. Mr. Crawford is devoting about all his time to getting various places of business in various villages over the county to handle the stamps. He is doing it because he believes thoroughly in the good the sale accomplishes in helping tuberculosis sufferers. There is no profit to him or any one else as the benefit for the stamp is turned in to the Red Cross society. Mr. Crawford mailed some stamps to the West Lafayette bank the other day asking them to sell them for the cause, and he received this letter in return:

My dear Sir: Enclosed please find our draft for $1 for the Red Cross stamps just received from you. We are glad to have the privilege of contributing even so small an amount to so worthy a cause. Thanking you for remembering us we remain, Very truly yours, The West Lafayette Bank Co. H. A. Sicker, Cashier.

KENYON GLEE CLUB MAY COME IN FEBRUARY

The Kenyon Glee and Mandolin Clubs, who two years ago gave such a splendid concert at the Sixth-st. theatre may return to this city about the middle of February under the auspices of the Phi Sigma Chi fraternity. The glee club this year is better than it was two years ago when it appeared in Coshocton. Both the glee and mandolin clubs are high class organizations and are recognized throughout the country as foremost among the college musical organizations. The leader of the glee club has a most excellent tenor voice which he alone is well worth the time and while to hear. Coshocton will, if they come, be the first to hear the organization as they are starting on an extensive eastern trip in February and will stop in Coshocton on their way.

An attempt to settle a pool game with their fists landed Chas. Prindle and Lenny Wells behind the bars of the city prison Saturday night. Prindle and Wells were playing pool in Kinney Brs'. pool room when they got into an argument over the game and one of the fellows jumped on the other and they started a rough and tumble fight. Lieut. Hankins was

Are You Ready For Heaven, Asks Rev. White

"Readiness for Heaven" was the theme of Rev. White's sermon at the United Brethren church Sunday evening. His sermon was based upon the 25th chapter of Matthew, the tenth verse: "And while they went to buy the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage, and the door was shut."

Rev. White said that to him the subject "Readiness for Heaven" is the most important subject in all the universe. So many of us, he said, are so engrossed in paying for our house or store or trying to get along well in this world or devoting so much time to the trivial pleasures of life that we do not devote much time to preparing ourselves for the next world. We are simply barks drifting on the ocean of life.

Rev. White presented the subject in a plain, yet forcible manner. He said he had no patience with the doctrines which have been scattered at the doors of Coshocton people recently that there is a second probation or chance to repent after this life is ended. He gave a beautiful picture of the virgin who with her lamps trimmed and burning. He said that procrastination is causing many to delay their salvation until too late.

The visitor at the United Brethren church is impressed with the zeal of the workers in the church. Those who are helping the pastor to build up a strong congregation in Coshocton display an earnestness which is commendable to say the least. A few of the faithful ones are always to be found in their places, whether it be in the choir to lend their voices in praise of God, at the door to usher the congregation to their seats, in the Sunday school room to teach the children how to walk in the light of God or in whatever line of church work that may be assigned to them.

The instrumental music is a valuable addition to the work of the choir. The quartette Sunday evening sang very beautifully.

By the time another delegate election is held the county no doubt will have more than 751 members which will entitle it to an additional delegate.

MAKES WONDERFUL TRIP THROUGH AIR

Latest in Aeroplanes is Invention of Massachusetts Man.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 12.—Wallace E. Tillinghast, vice president of the Sure Seal Manufacturing company, has invented, built and tested what he says is an aeroplane capable of carrying three passengers with a weight limit of 200 pounds each a distance of at least 260 miles, without a stop to replenish the supply of petrol, and, if necessary, at a rate of 120 miles an hour.

Mr. Tillinghast states that he has gone in his aeroplane to the statue of Liberty, near New York city, thence to Boston and back to the starting point, without alighting. This was on the night of Sept. 8.

Another part of his trip is still more wonderful. Mr. Tillinghast says that when near Fire Island one of the cylinders of the flyer ran irregularly. So the motor was stopped with the machine 4,000 feet in the air and sailed 46 minutes while two mechanics repaired it in midair, the engine being started again when the aeroplane was near enough to land to be seen by a member of the lifesaving crew patrolling the beach.

Mr. Tillinghast declines to give out exact information relative to the speed of his machine, saying he intends to enter the international races in a fair trial and without his rivals knowing what it can do.

Says Rabies on the Increase. Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 12.—That rabies is spreading rapidly, was the statement of Veranus A. Moore, director of the New York State Veterinary college. He also said that animal disease caused the loss of many millions of dollars in this country.

Dogs Spread Pellagra. New Orleans, Dec. 12.—That pellagra is contracted from dogs, is the theory advanced by Dr. Rushing of Benson, president of the De Soto Parish Medical society of Louisiana.

INTERSTATE LEAGUE GOES UP IN SMOKE

It is all off with interstate polo, for the tail of that organization went up Monday morning and the players have scattered. They say the league is to be organized on a more compact circuit but how they could get it much more compact is not known. The truth is polo without Coshocton was a loser.

New Teams Rush In Where Angels Fear To Tread

Canal Dover and New Phila are trying to get a berth in the Ohio State baseball league, the organization that was too fast for Newark and Lancaster. Those boys over in Tuscarawas must have a heap of nerve going against that game.

LOCAL MEN READY TO BACK BASEBALL TEAM

The prospects for a league baseball team in Coshocton next season are brightening up considerably and if the spirit keeps spreading as it has in the past few days the team is practically an assured thing.

One of the base ball leaders and pushers in the city was approached by two very influential men of Coshocton Saturday morning who expressed in very strong terms their willingness to back up Coshocton's end of the league providing a good base ball man can be found to manage the team. If these men will live up to their promises it will not be a very hard task to secure a team.

The two men proposed that the field used for the past few years as a base ball diamond undergo a general repairing process and put it in shape to accommodate the fans.

NEW TANK AT GLASS WORKS IS A DANDY

This week's Commoner and Glass worker says
The Coshocton Glass flint tank was enlarged during the summer by Manager A. J. Rittman from 10 to 15 feet and notwithstanding its great radius, the extreme length on nose from bridge being 18 feet, in comparison with the tank proper, it works like a charm and is heated entirely from radiation of the melting part, no other heat in front being applied. It is making as fine glass as ever was produced in a tank. Cords and stones are practically unknown at this place.

The two blowware shops, two Johnny Bull machines and one stopper press employed by the company turn out brandies, whiskeys and beers and prescription wares is made by three shops on the tank.

KEEP YOUR YARDS AND ALLEYS CLEAN SAYS OFFICER

As winter advances some people decide that they can safely throw garbage out in the back yard or alley and that the cold weather will freeze out all the impurities and leave the ground clean in the Spring. This is a mistake. You should continue to use your garbage cans and not pollute your yards and alleys with filth so that when the warm showers come in the Spring and the hot sun sheds its rays over your surroundings that you will not be reminded that you are inhaling the steam that arises from the filthy soaked earth. Keep your garbage cans in use. A garbage man is paid for hauling your garbage away. If you put it in the proper place where he can get it.

Keep clean and promote health and happiness in your homes. If the garbage man fails to get your garbage go to the phone and call for the garbage man. At the noon hour is the best time to reach him.

CHRISTMAS SPECIALS

Stickley Bros. Arts and Crafts Furniture

Is especially adapted for Xmas gifts. Because their products are a little better made, better finished than any competing line of mission furniture—nothing but quarter-sawn white oak is used in its construction and every piece of it must pass a rigid inspection before it enters the finishing room. Here it receives the attention of expert finishers—applying the various coats of wood filler, shellac, etc., after which comes the final rubbing. It must then pass through another inspector's hands and with his approval it is stamped with a little brass plate upon which it is etched "Stickley Bros. Co., Quaint Furniture, Grand Rapids, Mich." It then goes to the packing room when it is carefully packed and distributed all over the world.

We have the exclusive sale of Stickley Bros. Arts and Crafts for Coshocton and vicinity. We carry a representative line of their goods on our floor at all times which you are invited to inspect before making your purchases. Rockers, chairs, settees, costumers, foot stools, etc., etc.

Make your selections early and we will deliver when wanted.
